

Karoly György

Expectations and the realities - a year after the accession to the EU.

(How did Hungarian public, employees look at the EU membership over the past one and half decade; what were the expectations during the years of political, economic, social transition, the paralelly happening modernisation process and the preparation for the accession; social partner - trade union involvement in these processes; drawing a balance after the first year in the EU.)